ICorrespondence of the Rich mond Dispatch Nonrolx, May 26, 1886.

Another large crowd gathered in the United States Court-room to-day, including nearly the entire bar of the two cities, to witness the progress of the first of the Exchange-Bank cases against Bain & Brother, now being tried by Chief-Justice Waite, Judge Bond, and Judge Hughes. Mr. Richard Waike, counsel for the defendants, concluded his argument in reply to counsel of piaintiffs charging the several members of Bain & Brother, in their official and feduciary relations to the Exchange Bank, with obtaining for their own use and benefit, without security, immense sums of money, and then through a fraudulent conspiracy conveying all the property purmoney, and then through a fraudinear con-spiracy conveying all the property pur-chased with the money to certain alleged trustees. His speech was very lengthy and was claborated with law references, and, after a full summing up, declared that the only property traced (notwithstanding Mr. Lyons said $149,000 had been traced by the Eyons said $140,000 had been traced by the special master) as having been purchased with money gotten from the Exchange Bank were bills for guano and the Norfolk and Ouray mining property, which was not valuable. His argument throughout was to show that all the charges of fraudingainst the deed of assignment were utterly groundles. against the deed of assignment were utterly groundless.

Mr. Waike was followed by District-Attorney Catlett Gibson for the receiver.

Mr. Gibson claimed that the deed was fraudulent and vaid upon its face and should be set aside. He contended that upon the very decisions relied on by counsel for the trustees the deed is invalid. The manner of the drawing of the deed was attacked, as were also various provisions, and the whole instrument critically reviewed at length. In answer to Justice Waite, Mr. Gibson showed now, if the deed were set aside, a State statute which applied in the case would operate for the benefit of his clients.

Mr. Gibson was followed by Major Legh R. Page, of Richmend, for the trustees, who spoke three hours. He made an able defence of the validity of the deed and the course pursued by Bain & Brothers for the defence of the validity of the deed and the course pursued by Baln & Brothers for the protection and benefit of their creditors.

At the conclusion of Maior Page's remarks, Judge Theodore S. Garnett commenced his argument for the plaintiffs, but before proceeding far 5:30 arrived, and the court adjourned for the day.

A very large portion of the time of the various counsel was occupied in answering questions propounded by the Chief-Justice. The Court expects to get through by tomorrow night.

mr. Rowan, acting Commonwealth's attorney, opened in a brief statement of the case for the prosecution, and was followed by Hon. Daniel Trigg, of counsel for the defense, who made a strong and impressive speech. Previous to the commencement of the arguments counsel for defendant made a motion to require the acting Commonwealth's attorney to conclude the argument. A similar motion was made and sustained in Dr. White's case. After considerable debate on the motion Judge Richmond decided that Judge Kelly, of this Circuit Court, had held in Dean's case, upon a similar motion, that the order of argument in such cases was to be governed by arrangement. motion, that the order of argument in such cases was to be governed by arrangement between the Commonweath's attorney and the retained counsel for the prosecution; and so this court felt bound by this decision of the judge of the Circuit Court until the question should be decided by the Court of Appeals, and be overruled the motion. The defence noted exceptions to the Court's ruling. Under this decision, and by arrangement between Mr. Rowan and Major Williams, the latter will close the argument in the case. The case will probably be given to the jury to-morrow evening.

GLOUCESTER COUNTROCSE, V.A., 2

May 24, 1886. §

The fishermen have had a fine season and remunerative prices. The fishing interest of this section has grown into almost gigantic proportions. There are a large number of pound-nets set in Chesspeake bay, which catch a great many fish. They are packed in ice and shipped to market.

While Mr. H. F. Stubblefield, who is engaged in the fish busuess, was a short time ago cracking ice to pack fish in a piece of the ice struck him in one of his eyes, and I am sorry to report that he has lost that eye.

ANARCHIST LEADERS INDICTED. Spies and His Gang Formally Charged with Murder.

A Chicago special says: The grand jury has completed the investigation of the Anarchist cases and has determined to in-diet nearly all the persons arrested and confined in connection with the affair of Haymarket Square. The indictments were research on to-day and signed by the foreconfined in connection with the affair of Haymarket Square. The indictments were passed on to-day and signed by the foreman of the jury, but were not presented in court. August Sples, Michael Schwab, August Fischer, Samuel Fielden, Redolph Schnabelt, two or three others, and probably Parsons, though there is considerable doubt about the latter, were indicted for murder. Chris. Spies and ten or twelve others were indicted, some for conspiracy and others for riot. The only new evidence offered yesterday in the cases was the continuation of Captain Schaak's testimony. The Captain said that he would be able to connect the persons indicted for murder with the bomb-throwing in Haymarket Square beyond any doubt. They were all at the meeting at which it was determined to use the bombs. About twenty-five were to be used, and three of the indicted men had the missiles in their possession on the night of the occurrence.

Before Captain Schaak was placed on the stand vesterday the question of presenting indictinents was debated at considerable length; but an obstinate grand jury, who had been advised by an attorney that unless it could be proved that the person who threw the bomb had acted in concert with the persons accused, or at their suggestion, an indictinent would not hold, son who threw the bomb had acted in con-cert with the persons accused, or at their suggestion, an indictment would not hold, wanted to have proof as to the bomb-throwers. The State's attoracy read the law for the jurors; but, though it con-vinced the great majority of them, there were some who held out. They were willing to indict for conspiracy, but not for murder. It was to satisfy these, doubtless, that Captain Schaak was placed on the stand again. He had been in consultation with the State's at-tority and Foreman Hills during the noon recess, and they advised him to tell as little torm y and Foreman Hills during the noon recess, and they advised him to tell as little as possible, so there could be no chance of the evidence leaking out. He arted strictly on these instructions. It was nearly 5 o'clock when a conclusion was reached, some of the indicuments were found, oroshably, for the purpose of holding the witnesses who have "squealed" on their fellows. It was said to-day that nearly every other one of the Anarchists was ready to turn informer. It is now believed that Pursons, the missing Anarchist, was wounded at the time of the Haymarket rist and

Why a United States Court was Adjourned Over—Campbell's Case.

[Special telegram to the Dispatch.]

ABINGBON, VA., May 26.—By the time of the arrival of the hour for opening the Federal Court on yesterday it was pretty generally known that there was an entire lack of funds and cessary for the counts for the purpose, but for lack of sufficient appropriation the Marshall's effort proved unavailing. Consequently Judge Paul announced the intention of adjourning the term over till July 6th, and the time has been spent in recognizing witnesses and defendants for their appearance then. Fully seventy-five defendants have been released on bond; a dozen are confined in jail, and two to three hundred witnesses have been recognized; and to a late bour this evening the officers of the court have been kept busy with their duties in the premises. Aside from a few formal motions, no business has been transacted in the civil cases pending in this Court.

Mountain Grove, Mo., May 26.—Sunday morning Wayne Anderson, a wealthy and respected farmer of this county, was found murdered one and a half miles north of this town. He attended the Masonic Lodge Saturday night, leaving the hall about 12:30 A. M., and started for his home, two and a half miles north of the town. He was found Sunday morning lying on his back, shot in the throat and breast. Yesterday during the coroner's inquest two sons of the deceased, Ed. and Henry Anderson, and a companion named Ewing Sanders confessed the crime. Sanders said he was persuaded to assist the murdered man's two sons, and that Ed. Anderson shot his father with Sanders's gun from an ambush previously arranged. The confessions of the trothers are identical with that of Sanders, except as to who did the shooting, each accusing the other. There was wiid talk last night of lynching the men, but the sheriff succeeded in conveying them to jail at Springfield before the mob could congregate. [By telegraph to the Dispatch.]

Ormande Wins the Berby. |By Anglo-American cable to the Dispatch lby Anglo-American cable to the Dispatch.]
London, May 2d.— The race for the Derby stakes was run at Epsom to-day. It was won by the Puck of Westminster's bay colt Ormonde. Mr. R. Peck's chestnut colt The Bard secured the second place, and Mr. Y. R. Graham's colt St. Mirin third. Ormonde won the 2,000-gulneas stakes at New Market, and since then had been a hot favorite for the Derby. The weather at Epsom during the day was an old-fashioned May—light sunshowers and sunshine alternating. The wind was quite strong, the track was heavy, and the usual ple-nic scenes attended the race. Enormous crowds came from all directions—by rail, vehicle, and afoot. More than the usual number of Americans were present. Several splendidly-equipped coaches which were driven from London were entirely occupied by Americans. Among these were Mr. Mackay, it. Henry Watterson, Mrs. Sullivan, Consul-General Waller, Mr. Kitteridge of Hartford, Mr. Penfield. Mrs. Morgan of Seringfield, and Mr. Robotham. The English nobility attended the race in great number.

Trial-The Break-Down of the Con-

It is currently rumored to-day that the General is not at all pleased with the condition of things here. His opinion is that they are very much mixed. His brief speech to the Republican mass-meeting last night was one of encouragement to duty without any boasting as to the result. His remarks could hardly be called a speech. remarks could hardly be called a speech.
To say the least, from the present outlook, the result of to-morrow's election in Petersburg is doubtful. The friends of the citizens' reform movement are very hopeful, and are offering to bet on victory. But a day may bring about unlooked-for changes in the floating vote, and money may be used freely to accomplish these changes.
Both parties will watch the polls very closely and await the result with deep interest.

Information from Greensville county today states that Mr. Charles Baker, who was recently shot by Mr. Arthur Wallin, is much better, and that strong hopes are entertained of his recovery. Mr. Wallin, as has been previously stated in the Dispatch, is confined in the jathere. He is in good spirits, and confidently expects acquittai on the ground of self-defence, in which he claims to have acted. He has engaged the best of counsel. He has not had his examining trial before a magistrate, because of Mr. Baker's insbillit to appear and testify.
The recent rains were very heavy along the cothes of the rivers east of Petersburg, and in several instances were accompanied with exploits showers of bail.
It may be remarked in connection with the recent trial of Holmes R. Purvear, for the murder of his wife, that the principal prosecutor of the prisoner—Mr. A. T.
Powell, of Dinwiddic county—was at one time the teacher of Puryear. It may be further remarked that all of the prosecuting lawyers—three in number—were complimented during the trial by presents of terest.

auction, on the premises, on THURSDAY, JUNE 10, 1886. THURSDAY, JUNE 10, 1886. the VERY VALUABLE FARM belonging to the estate of James A. Hill, deceased, lying on the Rapidan river, in the county of Madison, five miles northwest of Orange Courthouse, Va., containing 280 ACRES The improvements consist of a large, well-built brick mansion with all necessary out-buildings. This is justiy regarded as one of the most valuable estates in Pletimont Virginia.

The undersigned, commissioners appointed by the County Court of Brunswick county. Va., invite Proposals, with plan and specifications, FOR THE ERECTION OF A BRIDGE ACROSS MEHERRIN RIVER AT THE WESTWARD MILLS, Said bridge will be 130 feet long, with stone abutments and a single span, or of two spans, with stone pier in the centre. The superstructure may be of wood or a combination of wood and from The abutments will be about twenty-five feet high, and will rest on the solid stone foundation which extends across the river from bank to bank. First-class stone, easily quarried and in unlimited quantity, can be had within a few feet of the site, which offers the greatest advantages for such work. Contractors are invited to examine the locality and make proposals for the entire work, or for the stone work and superstructure separately. The commissioners will receive proposals up to JUNE 1, 1898, at Lawrenceville, Brunswick county, Va., when they will meet to act upon such bids as may be offered.
